While Dr. John H. Jones was making a professional call about 2:30 o'clock this morning he passed an alley at the side of the state bank | Farmers Enthusiastic Over Suggesbuilding and his attention was attracted by two men standing close to the building. The moon was shining brightly and he was able to see them clearly.

The men apparently did not know of the presence of the physician and one of them remarked they would crack the safe in the bank as soon as "it gets a little darker." The physician then made his presence known and the men immediately ran through the alley towards the German Lutheran church. They are said to have climbed in a waiting automobile there and to have speeded out of the town towards the

Dr. Jones immediately gave the alarm and in a short time a posse of citizens was organized and the unable to get any clew to the men. The police at several places were notified. As the machine started towards the south it was thought it might be driven to this city, but the local officers did not see a car here that would answer the description. If the car did carry the alleged yeggs it was probably driven on side roads and all cities and towns of any size avoided.

organized and it is said that the last basket dinner. statement showed that the bank carried about $34,000 in cash in its vault. The safe, however, is said to be almost burglar proof so that the yeggs would have had a hard time to crack it.

There was considerable excitement at Jonesville and in the surrounding country as a result of the report and as late as noon today some of the searching party were still at work.

STRIKERS CITED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Hearing on Crder Sat For October 5.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.-After 8 showing of the United States Mortgage and Trust company of Philadelphia, mortgages of the Ft. Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, that employes of that company on the city lines in Ft. Wayne went on strike in violation of a restraining order obtained by the trust company in the United States District court, Judge A. B. Anderson issued a citation for civil contempt against three men identified with the strike.

The defendants named in the order are directed to appear at 10 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 5, to show cause why they were not in contempt. In entering its showing the United States Mortgage and Trust company said that notice of the temporary restraining order, which was issued by Judge Anderson, had been served.

The restraining order was directed against Joseph C. Colgan, a member of the executive board of the Amalga mated Association of Street and Electric Railway employes and about 181 others, employes of the city lines of the traction company.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., Sept. 28.-Mayor W. J. Hosey tendered his good offices in an effort to settle the differences between members of the Street in the case the Mayor took the case work under an agreement signed July under advisement and at two o'clock | 25, by which differences would be submitted to the State Public Service commission. The employes demand a Ft. Wayne arbitration board and recognition of the union.

"Not while I'm a member of this vestry," declared Nicholas Van Ploon, swiveling himself to defy Joseph G. Clark. "We don't sell the property."

"I put Mr. Clark's proposition as a motion," jerked W. T. Chisholm, and in the heated argument which ensued, the Good Shepherd in the window, taking advantage of the shifting sun, removed from the room the light of the red robe.

In the end, the practical-minded members won over the sentimentalists, if Nicholas Van Ploon could be classed under that heading, and Allison was telephoned. Before they were through wrangling over the decision to have him meet them, Allison was among them. One might almost have thought that he had been waiting for the call; but he exchanged no more friendly glances with Clark and Chisholm, of the new International Transportation company, than he did with any of the

"I don't dispute that; but in that offer I allowed you for the incomeearning capacity of your improved property. Since that capacity is stopped, I don't feel obliged to pay you for it, or, in other words, to make up to you the less which the city has compelled you to sustain."

"There is some show of reason in what Allison says," observed Joseph G.

Chishelm leaned forward, with his elbows on the table, around the edge of which were carved the heads of winged cherubs.

"What is your present offer?" "Twenty-five million; cash."

"We refuse!" announced Nicholas Van Ploon, bobbing his round head emphatically.

"I'm not so sure that we do," returned Clark. "I have been studying property values in that neighborhood, and I doubt if we can obtain more." "Then we don't sell!" insisted

"Rebuilding," returned Sargent. "We can put up tenements good enough to pass the building inspectors and to last fifteen years. With the same rents we are now receiving, we can offer them better quarters, and, as Doctor Boyd suggested, redeem ourselves from some of the disgrace of sleep the sake and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomei' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'senta-nel' tablets—that's the name—and their nel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to worth will do-will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Allison smiled, and slipped his watch back in his packet.

"It's fairly definite, however, that you won't sell" he cancluded

"Sentanel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow Boyd would be too old to preach in the new cathedral."

"He'll pull it through some way," declared Allison. "He's as smart as a whip."

Neither gentleman had noticed Gail. She had settled back in her chair durage about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening aftereffect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentanel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentanel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constitutions.

Extensive Improvements Made at Local Woolen Mills to Modernize Plant.

NEW BUILDINGS ARE ERECTED

Brick and Steel Loom Shed will be One of Finest Buildings of Its Kind in Middle West.

Extensive improvements are being made at the Seymour Woolen Mills and when the work is completed the plant will be one of the most modern of its kind in the Middle West. A new loom shed has been constructed on the southwest corner of the factory site and the main building is being remodeled and re-arranged so that it will have an entirely different appearance. Thousands of dollars are being spent on the work. Especial attention is given to sanitation, the heating and lighting systems and convenient arrangement of the several departments.

The work will not be completed for more than six weeks. B. F. Schneck, manager of the company, stated today that the capacity of the plant would not be greatly increased, except what would result from greater efficiency in a modernized plant.
